Take Time to Be a Couple

Choose at least one of the following suggestions and complete the assignment before you meet for the next session.

- Think about the next year of your marriage and list some specific goals for enhancing commitment. Five years? Ten years?

- Revisit the How Are We Doing? survey you completed in this session. Chose one of the commitments you both feel needs some work. Set some specific goals for making that area of commitment more stable.

- Consider the benefits of a mentoring relationship with a godly, experienced couple. Talk to your leader or pastor about the possibility of establishing this relationship with a couple in your church.
